

Our client is one of the largest private companies in the meat-processing industry. Their expertise, quality manufacturing and innovative product and service offerings rank them among the top 40 of the nation's leading 150 meat and poultry companies as measured by National Provisioner magazine.

They are seeking a qualified Quality Assurance Manager to oversee 3 of their meat-processing facilities located in Ohio.

They are looking for someone who has a bachelor's degree or equivalent with at least 3 years of experience in quality (food manufacturing background).

I can tell you that this company is highly committed to its employees and has a strong company culture. An excellent compensation and benefits package will be offered to the right candidate.

If you know a friend that can benefit from this information, please forward this email as soon as possible as the search is very time sensitive and ask them to contact me directly or send me their resume (MS Word format only, please).

Thanks and regards,
Pamela
